

Online Project Collaboration Solution from Pelotonics!

Truly productive individuals contend with one problem: the majority of people are not as productive as they are! The Pelotonics system was developed to help high-performing individuals and companies increase the productivity of their employees and outside vendors or clients through driving project-based organization and accountability. The Pelotonics system will help your company organize, collaborate, and succeed on all of your projects.

Organize

Consistent organization is key to making sure that your people are executing on project deliverables and not asking “where are we with this project?” The Pelotonics system provides a central repository for all project notes, documents, contact information, and files. The project’s current status is easily communicated based on the content within the system. With Pelotonics, you can manage To-Do Lists and Milestones with Assignments and Responsibilities, which drives accountability.

Once a work group is organized around a common objective, the results can be quite amazing. Many Pelotonics customers report leaps in productivity through gaining organizational control of their project.

Collaborate

Once a group is organized, all project participants need to collaborate as they execute on the deliverables of the project. Frequent and centralized communication is essential to a smooth project. Your clients will feel like you are leading them through the project rather than leaving them out of it. Projects fail due to a lack of good and consistent communication more so than any other factor.

Pelotonics was designed to become your project hub that facilitates frequent and archived communication. Never search for that email or that file again! When a message, file, or assignment is sent through the system, you will receive an email, but the same information is logged on the portal for future reference. Never hear “I don’t think I got that email” as an excuse for non-performance again. When people know that their tasks and messages are being managed on the Pelotonics group collaboration system, there is no excuse for not knowing what is expected of them and when it should be completed.

Succeed

Now that you are organized and collaborating on your project, the next step is success. Manage your project through the Pelotonics system and find out how strait forward and exciting project management can be! Many Pelotonics users report the ability to manage more projects with the same people more effectively than they could before implementing the system.

“My clients think I’m an absolute genius when they see the project portals I create for their projects. If they only knew it was so easy!” -Matt Longson, Neosci Medical

Try It Out

Pelotonics is simple to use. It takes three minutes to implement, is secure, and requires no dedicated maintenance or administration. All it requires is a web browser and a project.

